FOREWORD

The Digest of Public General Bills and Selected Resolutions was prepared originally for the Second Session of the Seventy-fourth Congress and has been published for all subsequent Congresses.

The purpose of the Digest is to furnish, in the form of a brief synopsis, the essential features of public bills and resolutions and changes made therein during the legislative process so that Members will have a readily available source from which they may answer inquiries concerning these measures.

In order to furnish Members with frequent coverage the Digest is normally published during each Session in 5 cumulative issues with biweekly supplementation as may be needed. Each cumulative issue is divided into 4 sections. The first section (green pages) contains a listing, by number, of the bills that have been reported by Committees and the current status of each such bill. Synopses in this section (green pages) are revised when necessary to reflect the changes made during the legislative process. The second section (yellow pages) contains a numerical listing of public laws enacted during the current Session together with the bill numbers of such laws. The third section contains the synopses of public bills and resolutions in numerical order as introduced. The fourth section is a subject index. The final issue of the Digest for each Congress contains a fifth section which provides a ready reference, by number, to public bills and resolutions introduced by each Member (Member Index).

Preparation of the Digest is the responsibility of the Bill Digest Section, American Law Division, Legislative Reference Service, Grover S. Williams, Editor.

Federal Tax Lien Act - Provides a comprehensive revision and modernization of the provisions of the internal revenue laws concerning the relationship of Federal tax liens to the interests of other creditors.

Substantially improves the status of private secured creditors. This is accomplished, first, by expanding the categories of creditors protected as against a nonfiled tax lien to include a mechanic's lienor.

Second, various types of secured creditor interests already having, or given, priority status over tax liens are specifically defined, and it is provided that where those interests qualify under the definitions they are to be accorded this priority status whether or not they are in all other respects definite and complete at the time notice of the tax lien is filed.

Third, adds to the "superpriority" status accorded to certain interests in securities and motor vehicles an additional eight categories of interests in properties which are to be effective as against a tax lien, even though notice of the lien has been filed.

Fourth, a priority status is provided for interests arising under three types of financing agreements entered into before the tax lien filing—commercial transactions financing, real property construction or improvement financing, and obligatory disbursements—even though the funds are advanced or the property comes into existence after the tax lien filing. In the case of commercial transactions financing, the protection generally is afforded even though the property underlying the lien is not yet in existence or is turned over within a short time (45 days) after the tax lien filing as long as the loan or purchase is made within this time. In the absence of this grace period, commercial factors and other lenders would have to check on a daily basis to see if a tax lien is filed to protect their interests. Interests arising under the real property construction and improvement financing agreements are protected even though loans are made after the tax lien filing because the construction is expected to enhance the value of the property underlying the tax lien. Interests arising under an obligatory disbursement agreement are protected because a person is obliged under a preexisting agreement to make disbursements after a tax lien filing and someone other than the taxpayer has relied on this obligation.

Fifth, a limited type of priority is given with respect to two other categories. In the case of security interests, generally, protection is afforded for a period of up to 45 days after the filing of notice of a tax lien. Also, interest paid with respect to interests having priority over a Federal tax lien and costs of preserving property subject to interests having priority over a tax lien are given a priority over tax liens even though notice has been filed (where these items have the same priority as principal debt under State law).

Makes numerous modifications in the provisions of the internal revenue laws dealing with the procedures to be followed in collecting the taxes of a delinquent person. The modifications are concerned with the procedures for levying upon property of a delinquent taxpayer, the liability of lenders, sureties, etc., for withholding taxes, the running of the statute of limitations in the case of delinquent tax liabilities, procedures arising out of, or with respect to the sale of property of delinquent taxpayers, the court procedures to be followed with respect to tax liens, and provision for the redemption of real property by the United States, where it is sold by a creditor with a higher priority.

Authorizes the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development to make grants for development projects in metropolitan areas, such projects to include sewer, water, and sewage treatment facilities; highway, mass transit, airport, and other transportation facilities; and recreation and other open-space facilities. Requires metropolitan areas to have an adequate system for coordinating local public development policies and activities on the basis of metropolitan-wide comprehensive planning. Requires that in order to be eligible for grants, projects must be consistent with the total metropolitan plan of their area. Establishes a time limit within which grants may be made. Limits grants to 20 percent of the total cost of the project.

Authorizes the Secretary to approve a category of "new communities" for mortgage insurance under the National Housing Act. Increases from $10 million to $25 million the maximum mortgage amount permitted at any one time for a single land development. Exempts new communities from the 7-year maximum mortgage maturity generally applicable under existing law to mortgages under the land development program.

Requires that in the case of a new community, the land shall be served, after its development, by (1) public systems for water and sewerage which are consistent with other existing or prospective systems in the area, or (2) by existing privately or cooperatively owned systems which are approved by the Secretary and are regulated in a manner acceptable to him.

Authorizes the Secretary to make grants to States and metropolitan-area agencies to help finance demonstration programs for the assembly, correlation, and dissemination of information and data needed for improving, coordinating, and more effectively utilizing governmental and other programs and activities available for the solution of urban problems. Limits grants to 50 percent of the cost of the activities carried on under an approved program during one year. Prohibits grants to assist in assembling data or providing information to be used primarily in the day-to-day operations of State or local governing bodies and agencies.

Requires the President to undertake such studies to improve Federal agency program information capability and coordination as he may deem necessary. Requires the Secretary to report to the President not later than June 30, 1971, as to the effectiveness of the assistance provided herein.

Integrated Education Act - Declares it to be the policy of Congress to eliminate racial imbalance from all public schools in the country.

Determines that a condition of racial imbalance exists with respect to a public school (1) if the variation between the percentage of nonwhite pupils enrolled in such school and the percentage of nonwhite pupils enrolled, at the same grade levels as those served by such school, in all schools administered by the local educational agency administering such school, exceeds 20 percent; or (2) if there is an unreasonable variation between the proportion of nonwhite members of the teaching or supervisory staffs of such school and the proportion of nonwhites within the geographical boundaries of the school agency.

Authorizes grants to local educational agencies for planning, developing, and implementing measures to eliminate racial imbalance in public schools, totalling $125 million for fiscal year 1968, $200 million for fiscal year 1969, and $275 million for fiscal year 1970.

Provides for grants to be made by the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, after approval of a locally prepared comprehensive city demonstration program, amounting to: (1) 80 percent of the cost of planning and developing such a program; (2) 80 percent of the cost of administering such a program; (3) 100 percent of the cost of relocations necessitated by such a program; and (4) 80 percent of non-Federal contributions required to be made to other programs or activities assisted by Federal grant-in-aid programs which are undertaken in connection with such a program.

Title II. Grants to Assist in Planned Metropolitan Development - Authorizes the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development to make grants for development projects in metropolitan areas, such projects to include sewer, water, and sewage treatment facilities; highway, mass transit, airport, and other transportation facilities; and recreation and other open-space facilities. Requires metropolitan areas to have an adequate system for coordinating local public development policies and activities on the basis of metropolitan-wide comprehensive planning. Requires that in order to be eligible for grants, projects must be consistent with the total metropolitan plan of their area. Establishes a time limit within which grants may be made. Limits grants to 20 percent of the total cost of the project.

Title III. Coordination of Federal Activities in Metropolitan Development - Provides for coordination of all Federal programs related to metropolitan development. Authorizes appointment of "metropolitan expediters" to assist local development officials.

Title IV. Land Development and New Communities Authorizes the Secretary to approve a category of "new communities" for mortgage insurance under the National Housing Act. Declares that a development will be eligible for approval as a new community if the Secretary determines it will, in view of its size and scope, make a substantial contribution to the sound economic growth of the area within which it is located.

Increases from $10 million to $25 million the maximum mortgage amount permitted at any one time for a single land development. Exempts new communities from the 7-year maximum mortgage maturity generally applicable under existing law to mortgages under the land development program.

Requires that in the case of a new community, the land shall be served, after its development, by (1) public systems for water and sewerage which are consistent with other existing or prospective systems in the area, or (2) by existing privately or cooperatively owned systems which are approved by the Secretary and are regulated in a manner acceptable to him.

Makes FHA-insured mortgages with respect to new communities eligible for purchase by the Federal National Mortgage Association under its special assistance program.

Makes urban planning grants under the Housing Act available to official governmental planning agencies for areas where new communities are to be developed with mortgage insurance assistance or where land is being acquired by land development agencies designated or created pursuant to State law.

Waives the population limit (50,000) on the political jurisdiction eligible to receive public facility loans under title II of the Housing Amendments of 1955 in the case of public facilities serving new communities within such large jurisdictions.

Authorizes the Secretary to make loans to land development agencies to finance the acquisition of land to be utilized in connection with the development of well-planned residential neighborhoods, subdivisions, and communities.

Title V. FHA Insurance Operations - Liberalizes the mortgage insurance program available to veterans. Facilitates the administration of FHA's new mutual cooperative management housing insurance fund. Increases limitations on amounts of insurable mortgages under cooperative housing programs by $2,500. Permits supplementary financing of improvements and community facilities in connection with cooperative housing. Increases maximum mortgage amounts under mortgage insurance programs for moderate income and displaced families. Authorizes insurance of mortgages executed by private non-profit organizations to finance the purchase and rehabilitation of deteriorating or substandard housing for resale to low-income purchasers. Also insures individual mortgages for the low-income purchasers. Reactivates the armed services housing program ("Capehart plan"). Provides mortgage insurance for group medical practice facilities. Liberalizes mortgage insurance provisions for rural housing and increases certain loan and grant provisions.

Title VIII. Miscellaneous - Requires compliance with the prevailing wage provisions of the Davis-Bacon Act on all projects under the demonstration cities program, the group medical practice facilities program, certain low-rent housing projects, and any multifamily housing in the redevelopment of an urban renewal area.

Authorizes further grants under the open-space land program, but prohibits open-space or urban beautification grants to communities having a median family income of over $15,000.

Makes specified local expenditures in connection with land acquisition in certain communities, or in connection with the construction of buildings or facilities, eligible as local noncash grants-in-aid with respect to urban renewal projects.
